Consider your career options at TAFE campus open day

POTENTIAL students looking for an alternative to university courses will have the opportunity to study TAFE Queensland's Southport campus on Thursday.

The campus will throw open the doors allowing visitors to tour the state-of-the-art nursing labs, visit the hospitality hub training restaurant, browse the hair and beauty salons and explore the coffee academy.

A spokesman for the campus said the open day was a great opportunity to explore the student study areas and lounges.

"These are great places to meet and provide the perfect spot for classmates to meet up and study," he said.

"This will offer something for everyone from high school graduates to hobbyists and up-skillers to career changers."

There will be exhibitors from all course areas including animal studies, beauty, business, community services, creative industries, events, hairdressing and barbering, hospitality, health, IT, language and general education, nursing, travel and trades.

Activities will be taking place throughout the open day including health check demonstrations, fitness demonstrations, interactive trade presentations and more.

Industry experts will be on hand to talk to participants about courses, career options and bachelor pathways.
